DOGS IN THE ROYAL PARKS

A woman with dark hair is sitting on a grassy area, smiling and looking towards a dog. The dog is partially visible, and the woman's hands are near its head. The background is a soft-focus green field.

Dogs accompanied by responsible owners* are welcome in The Royal Parks. However, there are specific areas where dogs are not permitted or must be kept on a lead (see reverse for details).

Some species – especially ground nesting birds – are sensitive to disturbance by dogs and people. Please pay attention to and observe the signs to protect our wildlife.

RESTRICTED AREAS WITHIN THE PARKS

There may be times when further temporary restrictions are enforced. Some examples where we ask for your co-operation are;

- > at certain times of the year, deer can become particularly intolerant to intrusion, at rutting or fawning, for example. For your own safety and that of your pet, please observe signage.
- > to control the spread of diseases such as foot and mouth. Such restrictions are only imposed after seeking expert advice from appropriate authorities. Signage will be displayed when these special circumstances apply and owners must ensure they comply with instructions.

*'Owner' means the person responsible for bringing the dog into the park. 'Your dog' means any dog which you have brought into a Royal Park.

Guide dogs are exempt.

DOG FOULING

Dog waste left in the park is unpleasant for other park users, unhygienic and causes serious ecological damage to plant and animal communities. It is an offence under The Royal Parks Regulations to fail to clean up after your dog. Dog waste should be placed in a tightly sealed bag and taken home or deposited in the bins marked for dog waste. Dog waste bins are provided in all Royal Parks. Anyone failing to clean up after their dog may face prosecution.

KEEPING DOGS UNDER CONTROL

Please consider that other park users may not be as fond of dogs, and that some people – especially small children – can find dogs intimidating. Your dog* should be kept in sight and under control at all times. Permitting your dog to chase, injure or kill any form of wildlife is an offence under The Royal Parks Regulations. Unruly and noisy dogs can cause disturbance to other park users.

WALKING MORE THAN ONE DOG

It can be difficult to control a large number of dogs, so as a rule of thumb no-one should be in charge of more than four dogs at any one time.

Advice for owners walking more than one dog:

- > Keep all dogs in sight.
- > Be in full control of your dogs at all times.
- > Keep any dog whose obedience cannot be guaranteed on a lead.
- > If your dogs are threatening or interfering with wildlife or the enjoyment of other park users, you may be asked by the police to leave the park or face prosecution.

The adjacent table gives details of the areas in each Royal Park where dogs are not allowed or need to be kept on leads.

This list is not exhaustive. There may be other areas that have restrictions – please look out for notices.
